Who We Are

Greenbriar Children's Center began as a dream of five young college women, Mrs. Frances Dye, Mrs. Martha Wilson, Mrs. Dorothy Jamerson, Ms. L. LaFayette and Ms. M. Williams, who in 1943 organized the Gamma Sigma Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. and began seeking a community service project. These women learned that a well-known Savannah woman, Adaline Graham had died and left property and funds to "whomever might start a movement to establish an orphanage for Negro children." The will stipulated that "the black Protestant churches of Savannah must lend their support and aid in maintaining said institution." Sorority members sought the assistance of the late Rev. Ralph Mark Gilbert, who was then the pastor of the First African Baptist Church and a known community organizer. After galvanizing the community around the cause and several fundraisers later, Greenbriar opened its doors on July 15, 1949.

Today, Greenbriar stands tall on the shoulders of these giants as a refuge for families and children of all races providing an oasis of services. We are a private, non-profit organization whose mission is to provide services which promote the healthy development of children and the strengthening of families. We currently operate five programs: Early Childhood Education and Care, Family Preservation, Project Safe Place, Emergency Shelter for youth, ages 12-17, and an Independent Living program for young adults, ages 18-21.

The future of Greenbriar Children's Center is as bright as it has ever been. As we continue our work as a pillar in the community, we are poised to take our reach even further. We stand on the precipice of exciting times for the organization. Our strategic direction will see us expand the services we provide to the families and children we humbly serve.
